

The map displays the Colorado Springs metropolitan area and its surroundings. A large, irregularly shaped yellow region highlights a specific area of interest, which encompasses the city of Colorado Springs and extends to the north, east, and south. This region follows major transportation corridors, including Interstate 25 (I-25) running north-south and Interstate 70 (I-70) running east-west. Other highways shown include I-17 and I-24. Key locations marked on the map include the USAF Academy to the north, Peterson AFB to the east, and Fort Carson to the south. The map also shows surrounding areas like Pike National Forest to the west and Falcon to the northeast. The yellow region is centered on the city of Colorado Springs and extends to the north, east, and south, following major transportation corridors.

